To: Paulo Choupina

MIT Information Systems & Technology would like to thank Paulo Ricardo C. C. A. Choupina for reporting on October 4, 2016 an SQL injection vulnerability in a departmental web application along with instructions for reproducing the problem, and allowing time for us to work with the affected department to correct the issue before making the issue more widely known.

MIT appreciates responsible reports of security issues affecting our campus systems, and such reports can always be submitted via email to to security@mit.edu or via <https://ist.mit.edu/security/report>.

Thank you, Paulo!

Sincerely,
